IT Guide Association    Job Corner    Health House    Tuition    Local History Archive    Public Information:    Gellerup Public Library

The IT Guide Association is a multi-ethnic, apolitical, non-religious and democratic association. The association has a double objective: to form a community of people with an interest in IT and to share the members' combined knowledge with citizens lacking IT-competences through free IT-courses. The IT Guide Association was founded in the spring of 2004. The association offers IT-courses at Hasle and Gellerup Libraries in many different languages, at different times of the day and during weekends.

'The Job Corner' can assist you in preparing your CV and read your application. They can give you tips and ideas for your application and for job interviews. They can help you find vacancies via the Internet and show you how to place your CV on job-related websites e.g. the JobCentre's. 'The Job Corner' cannot help you with casework or guide you in regard to unemployment or sickness benefits, regulations for the labour market etc.

You can see midwives, health visitors and dental hygienists at the Health House. You do not need to book an appointment to visit the Health House. The opening hours are Mondays and Tuesdays between 10 and 12 and Wednesdays between 13 and 15. You can seek advice on health matters concerning you and your family. You can have your baby or child checked and you can talk to a number of professionals. You can also sign up for group lessons or theme lessons.

On Mondays & Wednesdays between 15.30 and 17 and on Tuesdays & Thursdays between 16 and 17.30, tutors are ready to help you with your homework. Do you have trouble understanding a word or is the physics assignment, the Danish essay or the German translation causing you problems? And what exactly does it say in the letter from Aarhus Municipality? The tuition is free for everyone irrespective of age and no booking is needed. Several tutors are present every time. The tuition takes place at Gellerup Library away from the public areas.
